

Stand construction - special packages

- Professional all-round service

The all-round carefree package

We plan and organize your appearance on the fair and take care of the timely construction and availability of the stand. The only thing you still need to do is to fit out the stand with your company's display material before the fair opening. On the last day you just take your belongings and we will take care of the rest for you!

Your effort before and after the fair is thus reduced to a minimum. And you can completely focus on your performance!
